

FEIAP ENGINEER OF THE YEAR AWARD 2010

Mr. JEON, Bong-soo

Mr. JEON, Bong-soo, as a innovative structural engineer and a founder of JEON AND PARTNERS, Consulting Engineers in Korea has involved in the structural design more than 800 buildings projects since 1970. And for more than 30 projects, he has collaborated with the overseas firms of the structural engineers and architects of America, UK, France, Germany, Austria, Australia, China and Japan for the various kinds of the projects and expanded his professional horizon internationally.

And he is teaching the students in the Seoul National University as a part-time lecturer and delivering the addresses and presentations for his research works and projects. He is currently working for KPEA, as a Vice President. He has served his clients and the societies for the consulting work with the licences of Professional Engineer, APEC Engineer, EMF-IRPE, International Engineer(ROK), Korean Registered Architect. He was chosen as one of the 'engineers who are advancing our knowledge by the 'Marquis Who's Who in Science and Engineering, 2003-2004.' He was recognized and appreciated for the good job of the fantastic stadiums of 2002 FIFA World Cup by Mr. KIM, Dae-jung, President of Korea in 2002. And he was selected as a 'Engineer of the Month' by Korean Ministry of Science and Technology in 2002.